THE TRAMP.

He came from where he started
And was going where he went,
He hadn't had a smell of food,
Not even had a scent.

He never muttered once
Till he began to talk,
And when he left the kitchen door
He took the garden walk.

He said, "There's no one with me
Because I am alone;
I might have scintillated once—
My clothes have always shone.

"I got here 'fore the other ones
Because I started first;
The reason I look shabby is Because I'm dressed the worst."

Then I asked him where he came from—
This was just before we parted,
And he muttered indistinctly,
"Oh, I come from where I started."

Equity News

The Society of Equity having disposed of a large amount of the pooled tobacco, needs more room in which to have it sampled. We have rented to them our warehouse, and are therefore compelled to move the vehicles we have stored there to our salesroom at the store. This crowds us very much, and for that reason we are beginning today, May 20th, the biggest vehicle sale ever held in Maysville. We need the room, and, incidentally, the money, and now is your opportunity. Everybody knows that Mike Brown's Buggies are the best made, and that his word is as good as his bond, and when he tells you the rig will stand up and wear you may depend on it. If you are in need of a Buggy, Runabout, Surrey or Phaeton this should interest you.

One hundred hogsheds of the 1906 crop were opened, sampled and shipped yesterday, and it was all found to be sweet and in fine condition.

The foreign buyers in the market were E. W. Loudon & Co. and T. H. Kirk of Cincinnati, and DeRidder, Griffith & Co. of Louisville, all of whom were well pleased with their purchases.

BECOMES AN EDITOR

Captain Carroll Power of Louisville
Issues a Unique Publication

"United States Army Life," devoted to the young man in the Army and the boy who has aspirations to don an "Uncle Sam" uniform, is the latest addition to the magazine field. The headquarters of the new periodical, which will appear monthly, is in Louisville and its Editor is Captain Carroll Power, U. S. A., in charge of the recruiting office in that city.

Captain Power, who, by the way, is a Fleming county man, a brother of Mrs. Edwin Matthews and well known in this city, aims to fully cover Army life in all its phases—dealing with the service, the social and athletic features of the army.

A feature of the magazine is the page devoted the movement of the United States troops. With the intention to circulate the publication among the families of men in the Army the Editor will publish a record of current events in every department of the Army, and every parent, brother or sister can readily see where the son's or brother's Regiment is located and just what they are doing.

Accompanied by a very fine likeness of Captain Power, The Louisville Times says—"Captain Power, in the 'Army Life,' exhibits rare ability as a writer and it is evident that when he adopted the profession of arms, the newspaper world became the loser. No attempt to issue a magazine of the character of the 'Army Life' was ever before attempted and the publication is entirely unique."

Judge Cochran Hands Down Decision in Interesting Cases

Judge A. M. J. Cochran of the Federal Court Friday last handed down a decision in the cases of the United States against Woo Gos, Woo Lai, Yan Ning Kue, Moo Mow and Woo Doe, all of Ashland, being the five cases instituted by the Government to deport these five Chinamen.

Judge Cochran holds that they are lawfully in the United States and entitled to remain here, and orders that the proceedings by the Government be dismissed.

The five Chinamen were arrested on April 16th, 1905, upon complaints made by the Chinese Inspector from Chicago, and had a hearing before the United States Commissioner, who ordered that all of them be deported to China.

An appeal was taken from his finding to the United States District Court and the cases were tried before Judge Cochran at the May term, 1907, of the Federal Court at Cincinnati.

At this trial there were witnesses from New York, Columbia and Chicago, the Government having its interpreter and Inspector from Chicago, and the defendants a Chinese Interpreter from New York.

Great interest was taken in the cases and the decision of Judge Cochran has met with universal approval.

At Kansas City, Mo., it is expected that the Presbyterian General Assembly, now in session in that city, will make plans for an evangelistic campaign to be begun within a year, to touch every part of the world.

The tide of this country's sales of merchandise to foreign lands has this year swept away all former high-water marks. In eight months, or since July 1st, the excess of exports over imports has reached the stupendous total of $520,000,000. These figures beat by $122,000,000 the record for any similar period in the past. In February the United States exported goods valued at $167,000,000 and its imports were only $79,000,000. The people of this country bought from foreigners last month $44,000,000 less than in February, 1907, but managed to sell them $8,000,000 more.

English Free Traders, in trying to explain away America's rapidly rising export business, contend that financial distress obliged us to sell products in Europe that the people at home could not consume. This is a feeble argument. The truth is that the Old World needs a steadily growing amount of American cotton, wheat, corn and copper, besides other commodities in which this Republic is the grand storekeeper.

Europe buys these things not because it wishes to, but because it must. They are necessities. On the contrary, a very large part of American imports consists of luxuries, such as wines and precious stones, which may very readily be done without when the money is needed for other things.—Philadelphia Press.

HAPPY thought for the day: Governor, have you pigeon-holed the Powers and Howard pardon cases?

The next Grand Jury will make this corporation realize that the citizens of this county do not propose to longer put up with the unsightly and dirty station at the foot of Maysville street.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

THE NATIONAL GASFACTORY.

Of the late Langdon Smith, the brilliant journalist and author of New York, a Denver reporter, narrated anecdotes the other day.

"I remember," he said, "my first visit to Washington. Smith, big and handsome and vivacious, showed me about.

"From an eminence a great pale dome rose up against the blue sky, the dome of the Capitol.

"What is that?" said I.

"That," said Smith. "Oh, that's the National gas works."

NATURE AND A WOMAN'S WORK

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

Nature and a woman's work combined have produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers they relied upon the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease and mitigate suffering.

The Indians on our Western Plains to-day can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffle the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham more than thirty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills, more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

Mrs. Bertha Muff, of 515 N.C. St., Louisiana, Mo., writes:

"Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my troubles public.

"For twelve years I had been suffering with the worst forms of female ills. During that time I had eleven different physicians without help. No tongue can tell what I suffered, and at times I could hardly walk. About two years ago I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice. I followed it, and can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice restored health and strength. It is worth mountains of gold to suffering women."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Muff, it will do for other suffering women.

W. H. MEANS,
MANAGER.
